

WORKPLACE GIVING

Support our work through yours.

A guide for employees

Workplace giving is a simple way for employees to support those affected by breast cancer. By contributing a small amount of your pre-tax salary each pay to Breast Cancer Network Australia (BCNA), you can make a big difference.

You can give as much or as little as you like each pay and because your donations are pre-tax, you will receive the tax benefit immediately.

Why support Breast Cancer Network Australia (BCNA)?

BCNA is Australia's leading breast cancer consumer organisation. For over 22 years, BCNA has worked tirelessly to ensure that all Australians who are affected by breast cancer receive the very best care, treatment and support.

BCNA ensures that nobody has to go through breast cancer alone.

Learn more about the services BCNA offers at bcna.org.au.

Benefits of workplace giving

It's hassle-free.

Once you've signed up, it's all automated.

Your donations are pre-tax, so your taxable income is reduced.

If your employer has a matched giving program, your impact may be doubled.

Receive a special BCNA pin and regular updates on how your work is supporting ours.

How it works

Say you donate $10 per fortnight

it actually only costs you $6.75

and if your employer matches your $10

Breast Cancer Network Australia receives $20

*Marginal tax rate applied for employees earning between $37,001 and $90,000 per annum as at 1 August 2021. Excludes Medicare Levy.

Did you know?

OVER 20,000

Australians will be diagnosed with breast cancer this year.

WITH 1 IN 7 WOMEN

& 1 IN 670 MEN

diagnosed with breast cancer before the age of 85, it's likely someone within your workplace has been affected.

BCNA has built a strong and resilient network that brings together over 150,000 individuals.

BCNA reaches over 70 per cent of Australians

newly diagnosed with breast cancer as it advocates for, connects, informs and supports them on a journey that nobody wants to take.

How to get involved?

1. Find out if your organisation has a workplace giving program in place.
2. If they do, sign up to the program and nominate BCNA as the recipient and choose your regular donation amount.
3. Your employer will then make these donations to BCNA on your behalf.
4. If your organisation doesn't have a workplace giving program, now is the perfect time to suggest this as part of your organisation's corporate social responsibility program. Contact your Payroll manager and ask for one to be established and for BCNA to be nominated as a charity partner. If required, BCNA can put your organisation in touch with one of its approved workplace giving platforms who can simplify the process and work directly with your organisation to build a program that meets its objectives.

If you work for a smaller organisation, your workplace may choose to deposit your donations directly. BCNA's bank details are as follows:

Account name: BCNA Public Fund

BSB: 083 004

Account number: 532 142 990

For more information, please visit bcna.org.au/donate/workplace-giving-program or email us at contact@bcna.org.au

