Schedule I: Government Relations Guideline

General guidance

BCNA may promote or oppose a position, statement or policy, or any change to any matter of law, policy or practice, as long as this advocacy furthers or aids one of our purposes or outcomes for our members.

All BCNA employees and representatives engaging in government relations must adhere to:

- 1. This policy and the supporting procedure,

A-Political Approach to Government Relations and Political Engagement

Throughout BCNA's undertakings, including government relations and lobbying, our position is for the benefit of our members. At all times BCNA remains a-political, providing fair, equal and transparent opportunities to the relevant parties during our undertakings. This applies to when BCNA agrees with political initiatives, actions and policy, as much as when BCNA disagrees with political initiatives, actions and policy.

All decisions or requests for political engagement or advocacy that are received from government or political parties are escalated to the Board Chair and/or CEO for determination, and then delegated to the relevant levels in accordance with this policy as well as BCNA's Delegation of Authority Policy.

Personal Political Activity

BCNA employees and representatives may choose to engage in lawful political activity outside of their work, however, must be mindful of their role as a BCNA representative and disclose any conflicts of interest to BCNA, whilst following our Conflict of Interest Policy, our Code of Conduct and this Policy.

BCNA does not prohibit the engagement of our employees and representatives in political activity, however it is important that that activity does not potentially, or actually, reflect the position of BCNA in any way. This may include the use of electronic and social media in accordance with our Electronic and Social Media Policy.

Where the BCNA employee is permitted to represent BCNA, additional diligence is required to ensure that any personal political beliefs or activities do not influence any decisions or actions related to BCNA undertakings by any BCNA representative, nor do any personal political beliefs or activities reflect a position of BCNA.

Under these circumstances it is recommended that any public facing profile associated with BCNA does not include any personal and private profiles and activities, including the use of electronic and social media in accordance with the Electronic and Social Media Policy.

Prohibited Government Relations

At no point in time will BCNA actively promote a position solely for the purpose of:

- providing political endorsements
- lobbying on behalf of foreign government/s
- receipt of (or prospect for) political donations or payments
- any other activity deemed as unlawful or in contradiction to this or any BCNA policy.
